About Dave

I joined the Green Party last year as their policies appealed to me, and have lived in Norbury for more than 16 years with my wife and family.

After my father retired from the Cheshire Yeomanry, I grew up on my parents farm in North Wales.

After university I moved to Cheshire when I started to work for Rolls Royce and Bentley Motor Cars which was the foundation for the formation of my Manufacturing and Supply Chain Consultancy company, which has not only provided my living but has given me tremendous insight into business processes and policies, focusing on leadership development & change management, which are invaluable transferable skills.

I am a committed countryman and environmentalist, conservation of wild life, the countryside, sustainable agriculture and the country way of life are hugely important to me.

I don't have a political agenda and I will always answer any questions, as I do in my business, with straight answers.
